Business survey is still open:

Let us know what resources you need

The City of Westminster has a unique opportunity to survey its businesses on how the COVID-19 pandemic has affected the way they operate now, and how they will operate in the future.

This survey is designed to gather and understand your business' challenges and existing capabilities resulting from the COVID-19 crisis. Your input and responses will be vital in determining what actions and policies state and local government, as well as other stakeholders, can implement to help address those needs.

Please assist us in the recovery process by taking 10 minutes of your time to let us know how you've been affected, and what resources will serve you best.
