Safer at Home Order Starts May 9

Beginning May 9, Jefferson County and Adams County, in partnership with the Tri-County Health Department, will follow the state's Safer-at-Home order. Westminster residents and businesses should follow the orders of the county in which they live or do business. Under the state's Safer-at-Home order, residents are no longer ordered to stay home, but are strongly advised to stay at home.

When the Stay-at-Home orders are lifted and Safer-at-Home orders put in place, beginning at 12 a.m. on May 9, businesses will have many adjustments to make before they can open back up to the public.

We have compiled a helpful Reopening Checklist, along with some best practices for worksite, employee and customer safety. We have worked with county health officials, both Jefferson and Adams, to communicate the appropriate steps businesses should take for a safe reopening, and to prevent further spread of COVID-19.

Water Quality Tips for Reopening

When buildings are unoccupied for extended periods of time and water is not being regularly used, the water can sit and become stagnant. When this happens, such as during business shutdowns during COVID-19, water quality will degrade over time and may become discolored.

The City of Westminster is sharing tips for businesses on how to clear or flush the water in their internal water systems before reoccupying the building. The goal is to replace stagnant water in the building's water system with fresh, high-quality water from Westminster's distribution system. The city recommends working with your building's engineer or facility manager for this process.
